DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The present invention is directed to a method for reproducing information from an optical disc having a plurality of titles that correspond to a respective number of video programs stored separately on said optical disc. Each independent claim identifies the uniquely distinct features "determining a first title corresponding to a first video program having a first playback time", "determining a second title corresponding to a second video program having a second playback time", "comparing the first and second playback times", "determining that the first title that corresponds to the first video program stored on said disc has a longest playback time based on the comparison", and "selecting and forcibly reproducing the first video program corresponding to the first title with the longest playback time." The closest prior art Kim (US 6,343,180 B1) and Hashimoto (US 2002/0024893 A1) disclose conventional method for reproducing information from an optical disc, either singularly or in combination, fail to anticipate or render the above underlined limitations obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
